Our pump protection devices are subject to the German ElektroG waste legislation and the European WEEE directive and may therefore not be disposed of with normal household waste. Instead, they must be properly recycled. For you as our customer, however, this is not an additional expense, as you can return the devices produced and supplied by KRIWAN to us for professional recycling. We assure you that the returned devices will be recycled professionally and in an environmentally friendly manner. Our WEEE registration ID is DE 76459704.

Please carry out the following steps to return the devices we have delivered to you:

1. Please fill out the WEEE-Return form from the attachment carefully and enclose it with your return shipment.
2. Send your device, professionally and carefully packed, to the following address:
